REALTOR PARTNER PROGRAM

HIGHLANDHOMES
Dream it. Build it. Love it.

Highland Homes wants to be your trusted partner.

To qualify for this program, just allow us to do the client presentations.

We've found that the most effective practice is to allow us to perform the client presentations. We have done this hundreds of times and have the necessary experience to give an informative presentation and close the sale.

Your role is to lend professional support by asking questions that lead us to elaborate on points and allow your customer to learn more.

We will orient the buyer with us as the builder, explain what makes Highland Homes their best choice, discuss our build process, and help buyers determine the floor plan and features that work best for them.

A good relationship with you means we earn your stamp of approval and makes closing the deal more likely.

COLLABORATION WORKS

History has proven that real estate professionals who refer clients to a TRUSTED homebuilder are more likely to make sales.

Homebuilders capture more clients and achieve higher conversion rates when working with real estate professionals.

It's a powerful collaboration because we share common goals: more home sales, happier clients, and more referrals.
